1,900 EMPLOYED ON WPA PROJECTS IN LAKE COUNTY

Remove over Half of County Relief Families to Payrolls

The Works Progress administration swung into action in Lake county this week with about 1,900 men and women given employment on 35 projects.

More than 50 per cent of the families on poor relief in the county were removed from the dole Monday to take over their WPA jobs. It is estimated by E. T. Gurney, area administrator of the WPA, who announced that several additional projects will get under way this week.

Seek Prevailing Wage

Ralph Burke, deputy state administrator for the WPA, has communicated with Harry Hopkins, federal WPA chief, asking that the prevailing wage scale be paid skilled and semi-skilled laborers employed on WPA jobs in Lake county. The indication now is that prevailing scales will be met on all county jobs, at least for union laborers who come under the jurisdiction of the Lake County Building Trades council.

In order to meet the prevailing wage scale payrolls, the WPA organization is now proposing to finance the cost of buying materials and tool rentals so that the various project sponsors can apply their appropriations against the work payrolls.

20% Fall to Report

Robert J. Dunham, state WPA administrator, announced that 20 per cent of persons assigned to jobs from the relief rolls have failed to report for work. The Illinois Emergency Relief commission, he said, has agreed to drop from its rolls all these persons who fail to take WPA jobs.

As part of the program of the National Youth administration to employ workers between the ages of 10 and 25, Lake county has 85 youths assigned to projects.

622 Youths Assigned

A total of 622 youths have been assigned to jobs throughout the 21 counties, giving district number one, which includes Lake county, the distinction of being the first in the state to actually assign to projects their full quota.

NYA workers are assigned at wages and hours equal to one-third the regular WPA schedule—not more than 46 hours per month and with a maximum monthly salary of $25. The girls are employed on sewing projects and at federal commodity depots and the boys are working on construction projects and also in federal commodity depots.

The NYA applicants are taken only from large families in an effort to supplement the pay of the head of the family. Later on, according to Mary Stuart Anderson, supervisor of the youth's program in this district, other youths will have an opportunity to apply for this work.

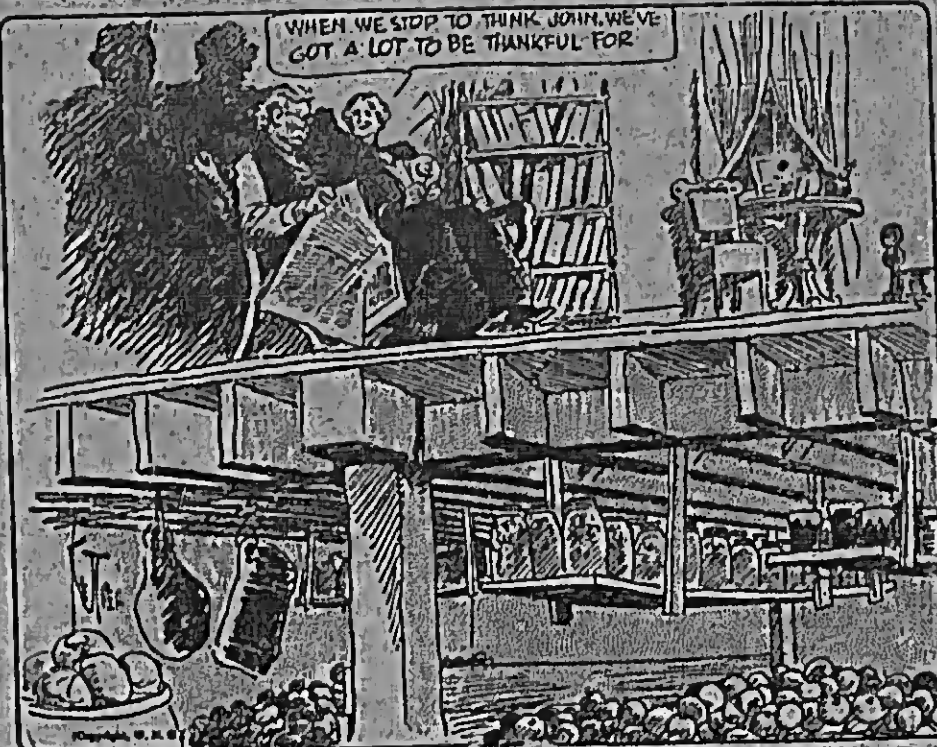

Lake Villa Principal Resigns; Gurnee Man Appointed in Vacancy

C. C. Frye, who has been principal of the Lake Villa grade school for more than four years, resigned his position last week to accept similar duties at a grade school in Berwyn, the Lake Villa Board of education announced. LaVerne Dixon of Gurnee, who is a graduate of Lake Forest college and has been teaching in the Gurnee grade school for several years, has been appointed to fill the Lake Villa vacancy. Mr. Frye will assume his position in Berwyn next week and expects to move his family to the western Chicago suburb during the Christmas school vacation period.

Bruns Beats O'Mahony's Wrestler Pal; McMillen Draws with New Aspirant

Jim McMillan of Antioch, one of the foremost aspirants to the world's heavyweight wrestling title, retarded the winning campaign of Pat McRinger, a member of the Chicago Cardinal football team, who has been bowling over opponents with much ado, and Bobby Bruns of Lake Villa threw Pat Murphy of Ireland with a body press in 14 minutes and 36 seconds. The familiar Lake county wrestlers appeared in the Chicago gym Monday as part of the bill featuring Champion Dan O'Mahony, who won over Chief Little Wolf, who's bout was a 30-minute national match which went to a draw. Murphy is the champ's stable mate.

3 COUNTY FARMS IN CHICAGO SHOW

International Live Stock Exhibit Lures Thousands for Saturday Opening

Three prominent Lake County farms will compete with thousands of America's finest farm animals in the new amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards when the International Live Stock exhibition opens Saturday.

The Lake county farm entrants are: Thomas E. Wilson's Edelyn Farms near Waukegan; Morrell Farm near Libertyville, the property of William Bartholomew, Jr., of Chicago; and Anchorage Farms at Barrington, owned by H. H. Karker. Other Lake county farms are expected to be entered before Saturday.

A glance behind the scenes discloses that soon after arrival the thousands of animals are subjected to a beauty treatment. Some breeds of cattle are shown to advantage with curled coats, accomplished by applying special permanent waving combs. Horns and hoofs are scraped, sandpapered and polished. Horses' manes and tails are braided and trimmed with rascals. Pigs are washed and oiled; and sheep must be sheared by experts to bring out the blocky forms that shepherds view as ideal. The exhibition runs till December 7.

Alleged Murderer Freed Because Circuit Judge Errs at Waukegan Trial

The trial of Luther Turk, 34, colored, of 1006 Indiana ave., Waukegan, indicted for murder of Columbus Coleman, 21, colored, ended Thursday with a jury verdict of manslaughter and the acquittal of the defendant because Judge Edward L. Shurtliff erred in allowing the manslaughter charge to go in the jury's instructions. "By including among my instructions to the jury a possible verdict of manslaughter, as requested by State's Attorney Mason, I erred," Judge Shurtliff admitted. "The jury in effect acquitted Turk of murder by convicting him of manslaughter, so I must discharge the defendant. Even if a murder verdict had been returned I would be forced to free the defendant because of the grossly inflammatory remarks made to the jury by the state's attorney."

Turk was arrested September 15 following a shooting after a crap game which Turk left and returned with a shotgun which was discharged hitting Coleman, which the defendant testified was an accident.

"She Loved Him— and How!" to Play at Crystal Friday

J. B. Rotnour and his troupe of players are staging the famous Broadway success Friday night at the Crystal Theatre. The play is entitled: "She Loved Him—and How!" The troupe appeared before another capacity house last week and the early demand for tickets this week indicates another full house. The plays are being sponsored by Antioch merchants and businessmen who are giving free tickets with purchases at their stores. They are listed in the theatre's advertisement in this issue of The Antioch News.

UPSIDE DOWN

With men winning a knitting contest in Boston and prizes for jam in Chicago, women don't seem to excel any more except at singing harp songs for the radio.

One no longer hears the question, "What would you do if you had a million dollars?" as our hungry government knows all the answers.

"Small Change" Iowa State's Atty. Lets Slot Machines "Get" Him

Adjudged in contempt of court after refusing to testify in the gambling conspiracy trial of Attorney General Edward L. O'Connor, of Iowa, former County Attorney Max Duckworth was in jail yesterday at Sioux City. Duckworth, under pressure, resigned his state's attorney job months ago when he was charged with receiving a "take" of $250 a month from the slot machine racket in Woodbury county. Two-fifty a month—the piker!

CHEST CLINIC HEAD EXPLAINS ROUTINE

Mrs. Niblack Describes the Work at Tuberculosis Clinic

"So often I am asked, 'What do you do at your clinic?' that I believe an explanation of that phase of our work would be of interest to everyone," Mrs. Austin Niblack, president of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association, said today. "We get our new patients from many sources," she began. "Some are referred by physicians, some are reported by neighbors, some are brought in by old clinic patients and some are news stories in the papers and come in of their own volition."

"Before the clinic day, Miss Mary Kendall, our Executive Secretary and nurse, calls at the home and obtains as much family history as possible. From remarks made by the family it soon becomes evident if there are grounds for a suspicion of tuberculosis. Such remarks as 'tired all the time,' 'one cold after another,' 'does not want to eat,' 'losing weight rapidly' with no apparent reason for it, as well as the more advanced symptoms of running an afternoon temperature, spitting blood and coughing, are all indications that medical attention is needed."

"When a patient arrives at clinic he is taken to the reception room where a chart is filled in supplying information of childhood diseases, frequency of colds, sleeping habits and history of tuberculosis in the family," she went on. "Then the height, weight, temperature and pulse are taken and the patient is ready for the examination."

"In the examining room the patient is given a thorough chest examination and further symptoms and history are usually revealed. When necessary, X-ray is made and most children are given the tuberculin test."

"When the diagnosis is made the real work of the Association begins," Mrs. Niblack said. "For most of the convalescent care must be given in the homes because there are only twenty beds available for tuberculosis patients at the County Hospital. Sometimes the patient is ordered to bed or rest hours are established. The proper diet will be prescribed for him and regular visits are then made to the home to see if the instructions are understood and are being carried out."

"The supervision of the case continues as long as it is necessary," she concluded. "The need for two clinics a month so that more people may be given this service brings us back to the annual Christmas Seal Sale which provides the funds for this and other phases of our work. These Seals will be in the mail the day after Thanksgiving and through their purchase you can share in this important health work in Lake County."

It is said that a popularly priced edition of Anthony Adverse has been issued. If this book has a big sale for a lumber shortage next year.

SEQUOIT CAGERS TO MEET WARREN IN SECOND TILT

Antioch High Entertains Traditional Foe in the Local Gym

Rivalry between the Blue Devils of Warren Township high school and Antioch's Sequoits will be resumed on the basketball court here Wednesday (November 27) before the cagers prepare for a workout on turkey the next day.

Smarting under last week's 31 to 14 defeat at the hands of the Little Six conference champions from Richmond and mindful of Warren's 13 to 11 victory that put them out of the tournament last year, the Sequoits expect to bounce back in the faces of the Blue Devils with plenty of scrap.

Coach Childer is seeking out a winning combination to replace the loss of Bishop, Steffenburg and Hawkins from the team that last year outpointed Warren twice, 25 to 21 and 22 to 19, before dropping the tourney battle.

The Northwest conference basketball teams, of which the Antioch Sequoits is a member, open their 1935-36 season Friday, December 6, according to the official announcement from conference headquarters.

Previous to this season, only 10 teams participated in the conference athletics, but the addition of Grant Community High of Fox Lake and Lake Forest has swelled the ranks to 12 members.

Play 11 League Games

This season's basketball schedule differs from the home-and-home 12-game schedule of other years because each team plays every other team in the conference once a year, for a total of 11 league games. This year's tourney will be held the week commencing Saturday, February 1, according to the announcement.

The conference schedule for Antioch's Sequoits follows:

Dec. 6—Grant at Antioch
Dec. 13—Antioch at Warren
Dec. 20—Ela at Antioch
Jan. 10—Antioch at Wauconda
Jan. 14—Lake Forest at Antioch
Jan. 17—Antioch at Barrington
Jan. 24—Palatine at Antioch
Feb. 7—Antioch at Bensenville
Feb. 14—Arlington at Antioch
Feb. 21—Leyden at Antioch
Feb. 28—Antioch at Libertyville.

Grade School Board Announces Calendar For Vacation Time

At the recent meeting of the board of education of the Antioch Grade school, vacation times for the remainder of the school year were adopted by the board.

In addition to the Thanksgiving holiday this week when no school will be held on Thursday and Friday, the board designated the period between the close of school on Friday, December 20, until the morning of Thursday, January 2, 1936, as the Christmas vacation.

Easter vacation will consist of time off on Good Friday and Easter Monday, with the school year terminating on May 22, the board points out.

Richmond Home-Bureau to Sponsor WLS Show

Special permission has been granted the Solon Mills, Richmond, Burton Home Bureau Units, by Prairie Farmer WLS Radio Station in Chicago to present a reproduction of their Eighth Street Theatre Barn Dance Show. A cast of 100 people are expected to take part in this big reproduction of the famous show. The local talent will be coached by a skillful director, Lorraine Williams, from the Prairie Farmer WLS Radio Station.

Impersonations of Uncle Ezra, Lulu Belle, Spare Ribs, George Goebel, Ole Yanson, The Lazy Farmer, The West-Orners, Hank and Hiram, The Three Little Maids, Patsy Montana and many others will be a feature of this show.

Announcements will go out over the air Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8:50. The try-out dates are Dec. 5 and 6 at Acacia Hall with the show one week later at Memorial Hall, Richmond, Dec. 12-13-14. All are welcome.

THAT NEXT PLATFORM

It will be an embarrassing moment when the national Democratic convention reaches the point in its deliberations where it will be necessary to draft a platform upon which President Roosevelt is to stand for re-election. The President repudiated the platform which he pledged himself to observe in 1932, and it would be a joke to again attempt to fool the people along the same line.

Former Pastor Tells Church Homecomers of European Affairs

Adolph Krahl, director of public relations of the Pure Milk association and former pastor of the Antioch Methodist Episcopal church, discussed a survey of European conditions he made this summer before the record crowd that participated in the annual Thanksgiving homecoming observance in the church Sunday.

Mr. Krahl, whose study included first-hand information in Ireland, Scotland, England, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Russia, Germany and France, observed that the co-operative movement in Europe was giving the people an added liberty and a higher standard of living. He predicted that eventually the co-operative solution will bring about a harmonious solution to many of the world's ills.

At the morning services the Rev. Loyal V. Siller spoke on the theme: "The Accounting of a Religious Patriot." The young people's choir furnished the special music with Miss Ruth Ona Nelson as soloist.

Following a dinner supervised by the November circle of the Ladies' Aid society, Mrs. Addie Williams read a paper on her reminiscences of some pioneer Antiochans.

Besides Mr. Krahl's address, the afternoon program was featured with musical selections by Miss Nelson and Mrs. H. B. Gaston and short talks by Miss Ella Ames, J. C. James, S. E. Pollock and W. C. Petty. Mrs. Nason Sibley, Mrs. A. J. Felter and Mrs. L. O. Bright composed the program committee with the Rev. Siller in charge.

Antioch Women To Observe Mark Twain Centennial Monday

Mark Twain centennial, which is celebrated Saturday, will be observed at the Antioch Woman's club Monday when the group hears an address by Mrs. Olive B. James, President of Rogers Park club, in the home of Mrs. H. H. Grimm.

The speaker who has made an intensive study of the great American writer and humorist will explain some of the high-lights in the life of Mark Twain who was born 100 years ago on November 30.

Current events will be discussed at the meeting by Mrs. Albert J. Tiffany. Hostesses for the day are: Mrs. H. H. Grimm, Mrs. Homer B. Gaston, Mrs. Maud Sablin and Mrs. George Anzinger.

Antioch Gridster Wins Illini Numeral; Sayre Elected '36 Captain

John C. Brogan of Antioch was awarded his football numeral as a member of the University of Illinois football squad this fall and Elvin C. Sayre of Waukegan, center of the Illini for two years, was chosen captain for the 1936 team. It was announced last night at the annual banquet given the squad by the Rotary club of Champaign.

Mrs. Warner Gets Fracture in Spill

Mrs. Phyllis Warner, who celebrated her 95th birthday a short time ago at the home of her daughter in Chicago, suffered a broken hip in a minor fall in her home recently and is considered to be in a very serious condition because of her advanced age. Mrs. Warner was born at Antioch and has many friends and relatives in Lake county.

City Briefs

Friends from out-of-town who were present at the Methodist church homecoming were: Mr. and Mrs. James Strahan, Mrs. John Strahan, Miss Katherine Gelling, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henry, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ames, all of Rosecrans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sheen and sons, John and Lyle, Frank Van Duzer and Hazel Vauhtine, Waukegan, spent Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ellen Van Duzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson and family of Marengo and Mr. and Mrs. Earle Somerville of Chicago were guests of Mrs. Mollie Somerville Sunday.

Mrs. Ellen Van Duzer has been ill the past week with rheumatism. Her daughter, Mrs. William Bratke, of Mundelein has been caring for her.

Miss Margaret Pullen visited Miss Ruth Walls at Hickory Saturday and helped celebrate her birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Somerville, Mrs. A. Swanson and Mrs. Mollie Somerville spent Monday in Chicago.

UNCLE SAM FIRES STARTING GUN FOR CHRISTMAS SEASON

Only 22 Shopping Days as Postoffice Urges Early Mailing

With only 22 more shopping days left before Christmas, the post office department issues its familiar advice to "Shop Now and Mail Early" for Christmas delivery—a plan, though annually repeated, that leaves many procrastinators unmoved, as last minute rushes every season indicate.

It is pointed out by the post office authorities that during the holiday time the volume of mail increases about 200 per cent and because of this to insure delivery of Christmas cards, presents and letters by Christmas Day, people should shop and mail early.

The leading retailers of Kenosha and Waukegan have opened their doors to the Christmas shoppers this week and with the snappy weather that is generally present with the winter season, many shoppers are already heading the post office warning to shop and mail early.

Local merchants, too, are getting in their supplies of Christmas goods and The Antioch News is already filling printed orders for personal Christmas cards and subscription offers.

The post office is stressing the importance of clear addresses especially in Christmas mailings. According to the circular, the postal heads urge:

"Addresses should be complete with house number and name of street; post office box or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. Do not mail Christmas greeting cards in red, green or other dark envelopes, or in very small envelopes."

116 From Lake Co. In Attendance At Univ. of Illinois

Most of the young people from the Lakes Region who are attending the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana will be coming home this week to spend the Thanksgiving recess with parents and friends, according to word received here yesterday from the office of Fred Turner, dean of men.

He announces that there are 116 enrolled this term from Lake county and that 13 come from the heart of the Lakes Region. Fourteen of the state's counties have more than 100 students in attendance with Cook of course, leading with 8636. Champaign is next with 1184 and Hardin the smallest with two enrolled. Calhoun is the only county in the state which is without an enrolled student.

Lake Villa leads the list of enrolled students from this community with eight. The students are: Glenn D. Strang, Andrew F. Simpson, William H. Maler, Robert W. Hughes, Clyde F. Helm, Julie L. Hall, Geraldine E. Bonner, and William C. Bauman.

Jane M. Warriner and John C. Brogan are the Antioch students and William W. Janssen and Jerome Gurtwicz are from Fox Lake and Ingleside respectively.

In addition to Lake, Champaign and Cook, other large county representations are: DuPage, 144; LaSalle, 137; McLean, 126; Mason, 138; Madison, 134; Peoria, 184; St. Clair, 115; Sangamon, 200; Vermilion, 222; Will, 130; and Winnebago, 157.

Antioch Ping-pongers Outgoing Tanning Lads to Win Opener, 11-5

The Griggs-Pfeffer Tanning table tennis team went back to the company's recreation rooms last week with the short end of an 11 to 5 score after a session with the Antioch Paddle and Net club members who specialize in plain and fancy ping-pong, on the tables in the Antioch Grade school.

Jack Panowski, Eddie Sorenson and Bill Volk made clean sweeps of their matches to account for 6 of the Antioch team's points. Bill Kodman, Wilfred Jenerich, Joe Panowski, and Charles Miller halved their matches with their opponents while Kenny Hills took his single game to give the Waukeganites a lesson in tanning. Bob Bishop was the only Antiochan to come out on the short end of the evening's matches.

This week the paddlers are competing for the head-man position which is held by Captain Ray E. Sorenson, preparatory to a battle with the Wisconsin champion from the Kenosha Y. M. C. A.

WHY TURKEY FOR THANKSGIVING

Three times a year, at Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's the people of the United States somehow manage and contrive to have turkey whether they can or cannot afford it.

Why we have or try to have or imagine we would like to have turkey for Thanksgiving dinner goes way back to the fact that the turkey is strictly an American bird and serving it at feast of Thanksgiving is an old American custom.

Some authorities will explain that we eat turkey on Thanksgiving Day because after the first harvest in the fall of 1621 the Pilgrim fathers at Plymouth set aside a period for feasting and giving thanks. To provide food for this feast, Governor Bradford sent out hunters who returned with a large supply of game—namely turkey. From this circumstance arose the popular association of these birds and thanksgiving feasts.

Thus the Pilgrims, grateful for a good harvest, gave us the spirit of thanksgiving.

However, years before the landing of the Pilgrims the Indians of the aboriginal civilization domesticated turkeys in the Southwest and fattened them for ceremonial feasts, actually getting their birds from the pens as we do today.

Contrary to popular opinion the turkey did not get its name from Turkey—which happened to be a country of that name. The first turkeys taken from this country were handled by Hebrew merchants and sold into Spain and since the turkey was often confused with the European peacock it was natural that these merchants applied their word for peacock to the American bird which happened to be "Tukki," which became "turkey" in the English language.

REAL THANKSGIVING SOUND EFFECTS

With word from Springfield that the Lakes Region has been selected by the department of fish and game conservation for the liberation of a very prolific type of wild turkey, the folks around the Antioch region will have the original atmosphere of the annual Thanksgiving event as started by the good old Pilgrim fathers.

Like the pilgrims, all the natives will have to do is to go out with the old blunderbuss and knock a fat turkey out of a tree, instead of visiting a grocery store to look at a specimen of the bird—and buy something else!

Of course, the old Pilgrim fathers were liable to be scalped and filled with pretty arrows by the Indians before they got home with the turkeys, which is something else to be thankful for so far as the Pilgrims are concerned because the natives of today only have to worry about dodging the hit-and-run drivers on the way back home. It's much easier to extract an arrow than a nice substantial steel chassis.

However, the return of wild turkey to Lake country will bring back memories of earlier days to old timers when a hunter actually went into the wilds of the Lakes Region, a la the Pilgrim father, to shoot his Thanksgiving dinner.

EVER HAVE A FIRE?

Have you ever had a serious fire on your property? The chances are that you haven't—and you are lucky. But the fact that you haven't suffered directly from fire loss shouldn't give you a false sense of security. A fire, like anything else, has to happen a first time. And the property owner who disregards warnings concerning fire hazards, thinking that such matters may affect others but not him, is all set for that "first time."

Unless your home is different from the average, it contains a long list of fire hazards. Remember that old furniture, those ancient magazines and clothes you've been putting in the attic little by little for many years? They offer a constant invitation to fire, no less than the nest of a real pack-rat. And the accumulations of greasy rags or refuse in the basement or garage—what more could the force of spontaneous combustion want to get in its work? And those electrical repairs you made yourself, in order to save the few dollars an expert electrician would have charged to do the job properly—perhaps you don't know that electrical hazards are one of the most prolific sources of fire. And that heating plant that is going full blast these first days of winter—unless it has been recently inspected and overhauled, it is one of the fire demon's best allies.

Almost every fire hazard can be eliminated—furthermore, it can be eliminated quickly, easily and cheaply. Some of the most dangerous hazards, such as improperly stored inflammables and piles of rubbish, can be done away with entirely without cost. Doing that may save lives and irreplaceable property—is it worth the little work that is involved?

ENFORCE THE TRAFFIC LAWS

Of all the weapons being used to combat motor traffic accidents, enforcement is ultimately the most important. This is not to minimize the vital need for such primary measures as education and engineering, for education is a great hope and only through it can we achieve the ideal of self-enforcement. Traffic engineering is a fast developing science which can and does go far in reducing the probability of motor accidents caused by faults in street and highway design and construction. Nevertheless, until education teaches the motorist better habits and a proper respect for the added advantages given by traffic engineering safety, enforcement must assume the practical leadership in accident reduction.

People who are otherwise law-abiding, deliberately break the traffic laws every day. The result last year was 36,000 killed and close to a million injured. The police cannot afford to let down their enforcement efforts—rather they must intensify them! Probably the first requisite for good enforcement is good laws to enforce. The truth of this statement is proved by a survey made by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. This survey showed that the trend in the ratio of motor accident fatalities to gasoline consumption increased twenty per cent in six years in a group of states having no driver's license laws, while at the same time, it decreased twenty-five per cent in those states with standard license laws. So long as the law itself is lax, not only about licenses but also about the whole motor vehicle code, it cannot be surprising that the motorist is also lax.

A second requisite of good enforcement is intelligent application of the law. All offending motorists are not alike, either in their attitude or the degree of their offense. No police officer has the right to abuse this authority by abusing a motorist where harshness is not called for. The "bawling out" should be saved for the extreme offender. The average violator, being the average man, is amenable to reason. The policeman who can explain how the safety of the offender and of others has been endangered by an illegal or an unsafe practice and who is equipped as well to demonstrate statistically the toll taken by that particular violation, is far more likely to win a convert to the good driving idea. Correction and not punishment is the aim of modern traffic law enforcement.

Real enforcement, therefore, is self-enforcement. Death and destruction on streets and highways will practically cease when every driver—and every pedestrian—becomes his own agent of enforcement.

"What the rich suffer in the political efforts to shrink their fortunes is as nothing compared to the situation of the poor and the middle class caught between the ravenous jaws of higher prices and heavier taxes."—Merle Thorpe.

THE THANKSGIVING PIE

Thanksgiving Pumpkin Pie

From the time the first golden pumpkin makes its appearance until the last one has been taken out of storage, there's no more universally popular dessert than pumpkin pie. Although canned pumpkin is available at all times and makes excellent pies, pumpkin pie enjoys a definite season and is most appreciated during the autumn months. Everybody has his own very definite ideas of just what a pumpkin pie should be from color to taste.

Horses Swim for Living

The only horses that swim all day for a living are those which pull the ferry boats across the Ohio river to Central Asia. Each boat has two of them fastened out in front of it on a supporting device with a bellyband and, from dawn to dusk, they draw these heavily loaded ferries across this river—half a mile wide—guided by the reins of their driver—by Bill Philter, Little Rock, Ark., in Collier's Weekly.

ANTIOCH GIRLS NOTED FOR SKIN BEAUTY

Scores of Antioch girls noted for skin beauty, praise ZENZAL. So quickly does it banish blackheads, ugly pimples, correct oily skin, many say, "It's magic!" No need to suffer embarrassment. Just say ZENZAL at Reeves' drug store. You must be pleased with your new, creamy-white complexion, or money back.

THANK YOU,
AMERICA,

for more than a Million cars
in 1935

This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America."

One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000.

And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks they have been on display.

Chevrolet is indeed happy to say, "Thank you, America," and to pledge continued adherence to the manufacturing and service policies which have won and held this friendship.

Famous Fountain of Youth

The history of the St. Petersburg Fountain of Youth, located on the south waterfront at Third Avenue South, is closely woven with the early history of Pinellas peninsula and the lives of the earliest inhabitants and explorers. When Hernando de Soto landed on Weesh's Island on Sunday, May 2, 1529, in commemoration of the day of his landing, the feast of the Holy Spirit, he named the spot Espiritu Santo. In later years Espiritu Santo became Safety Harbor. There springs used by the Indians for medicinal purposes were found.

News of By-gone Years in Western Lake County

Forty Years Ago

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. J. C. James on Wednesday of last week and was attended by a large number of the members of the society, as well as many who are not members of the society. After a nice supper had been enjoyed by all, the evening was spent pleasantly in social intercourse. The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. Dr. Karr, on Wednesday of next week, and all are invited to be present, especially from 5 to 7 o'clock, when the usual 10 cent supper will be served.

This is the day we return thanks to the subscribers who resolve that tomorrow they will come and call at the News Office and pay their subscription.

A blizzard struck this section Monday night delaying railway traffic, etc. About 18 inches of snow fell, but it drifted badly, making sleighing very poor.

George Harden of Rockford was in Antioch Friday last.

Dr. E. F. Schaefer of Oraylake was in Antioch Tuesday.

Terry Brogan was in Racine, Wis., Tuesday and Wednesday.

Charles Powles of Salem and Fred Shottliff of this place were in Chicago Monday.

Our Thanksgiving Prayer

THESE probably has been no subject since man's beginning more discussed than prayer. It is a subject which has claimed the attention of the spiritual world, as a form of worship. Scientists not being able to classify it into formula or fact have dismissed the subject as not belonging to the scientific world. What is prayer, and where does it belong, and to whom? According to the present status of the human race there are three kinds of prayer. The first type of prayer is petition, begging for something which one has not, whether it be for something to have or to be, it is asking God to give. This type of request is pseudo-prayer, and should bear the name of petition. The second type of prayer is the kind that brings our attention to the President's proclamation, to his knees on Thanksgiving day in gratitude, for Thanksgiving means gratitude. It is an attitude of the heart. Even though grateful, one can also be selfish. Gratitude is sometimes lacking in human beings and found in dogs. Today, we the American people are not as grateful for our splendid country, with its privileges of free education, its noble liberty of religious thinking, its art, fine music and literature, as were those first Pilgrim fathers who dared the bleak barren coast of early New England.

"Give us this day our daily bread," is more often "said" than prayed, and in how many American homes today do little children never hear a word of grace or gratitude at the beginning of a meal. This is short measure of his rightful heritage. Gratitude is one of the courtesies of character, an amenity of the heart. It can be cultivated by always comparing your lot in life with that of someone who has less rather than more than you have. This always brings gratitude plus contentment. However, this second type of prayer goes only half way to the heart of God, and should only bear the name of gratitude, not prayer.

The third kind of prayer must include others if we wish it to ascend

New England Thanksgiving Busy Time

THANKSGIVING day! How these words spelled days and days of work and worry for the colonial housewife! A festive holiday it was called by proclamation, observes a writer in the Boston Herald, but actually it represented a day which demanded more preparation than most any other in the year. Our old New England traditions required it—the Puritans did, so must we—was the common understanding of the day.

In days of yore grandmother would start her Thanksgiving preparation weeks in advance. The pies must be made. Of course she wouldn't serve mince pies that hadn't "ripened." These were made in quantity and put down cellar, where they frequently froze to a solidity overcome only by a hot oven just before the feast.

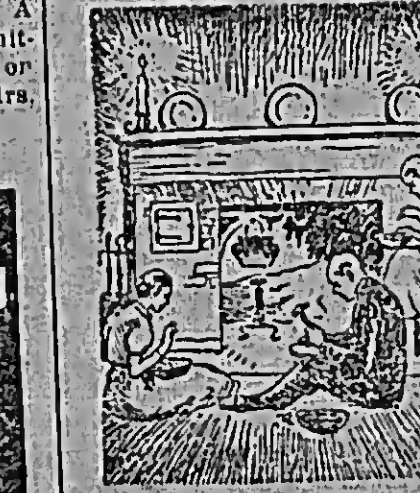

In passing it might be well to remind you of the custom in one New England family to have three pieces of pie for breakfast on Thanksgiving morn. Mince, apple and squash were the three denoted by tradition.

Well in advance of the traditional day one would see grandmother take down the seasoning used but a few times a year, the crackers would be ground up and gradually the stuffing for the turkey was prepared—this also went down cellar to ripen. We mustn't forget the plum pudding which was made well in advance and hung in a bag up in the attic suspended from a nail so interested mice could not approach.

Then came the days before Thanksgiving. Saus were drafted to collect and crack the butter, walnuts, beechnuts, etc. (and more than one finger was snatched in the process). Daughters were drafted to peel squash, turnips, carrots, potatoes, sweet and white, and of course the proverbial tear-producing onions.

The turkey must be caught, killed, plucked, singed and hung up for a day before he was brought to the kitchen. Grandmother must make her famous nut bread for William ("he does like it so when he comes home"). "Saddle, you make the fudge—Alice, you make the mince-candy—Sue, you make—" and so it goes. Everyone hustles, all wanting the same dishes, the same stove cover, the mince spoon, etc.

"Johnnie, Oh Johnnie! Go down to the village and get me some more crackers—there's my five run out of seasoning"—and the errands start. These were typical New England days of preparation for the Thanksgiving feast, all of which must be executed in addition to the regular chores of making butter for market twice a week, churning the cottage cheese, collecting the eggs, etc., etc.

Then came the day—the house must be spic and span. Dozens of pictures must be dusted, the parlor must be opened up, wood brought in for the extra stove, chestnuts gathered to put on the fireplace hearth—and on went the great process of preparation.

The folks came, tings and kisses went the rounds, the new baby was chucked under the chin and an immediate retreat to the kitchen by the feminine members took place. By one-thirty or higher than our heads. A great and fine woman, internationally known, said to me once, that she prays God to help her answer prayers of others. "You would be surprised," she said to me, "how many opportunities daily come to me to answer the prayers of other folks. Somehow, when I am thinking in terms of the needs of others I lose track of my own, and I grow strong when others need me to be strong." Can we really pray?

Purple Milkwort

The purple milkwort's name was given, not because its stem is milky as in the case of the milkweed, but because farmers have thought their cows gave more milk after a meal on its magenta flowers.

two the feast took place—and then the dishes. Stacks upon stacks of dishes, pots and pans (usually the turkey pan went under the sink for scouring the following day).

Games, gossip, etc., occupied a brief period until time for supper, when again the kitchen staff swung into action and made turkey sandwiches, fattened the elder and cut up the pies.

As the lights were blown out it was unusual to hear the women folks say, "I didn't have a good time, but isn't Thanksgiving a tiresome day!"

This was the Thanksgiving of yore contrasted to the modern Thanksgiving of a restless morning, a motor ride through the country or a ride "in town," a sumptuous dinner prepared by chefs who have vied with grandmother and her recipes until even she is forced to admit that she has been surprised—a delightful surprise at the theater and an evening in the game cellar at home. What a contrast—and what a pity that grandmothers of old couldn't be here now to reap the benefits of the advance of New England family tradition!

Gods, Goddesses, Dancers

In India nearly all of the 250,000,000 gods and goddesses of the Hindus are considered to be dancers and their images show them in some symbolic pose. Most Indians cannot understand or believe in a god without grace, rhythm and the ability to express his infinite soul through movements of his body. One of the chief sacred books of Hinduism states that the principal activity of all gods is dancing.—Collier's Weekly.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

A special Thanksgiving service was held in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Thursday, November 28.

Subject: "THANKSGIVING."

The Golden Text was, "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High" (Psalms 100:24).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Serve the Lord with gladness; come before his presence with singing."

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name" (Psalms 100:2, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the scientific relation of God to man, we find that whatever blesses one blesses all, as Jesus showed with the loaves and fishes.—Spirit, not matter, being the source of supply" (p. 209).

Thanksgivings
Checkered
Career

THANKSGIVING day is more interwoven with the nation's history than any other American holiday and has had the most checkered career of them all, a historical review of the long chain of circumstances surrounding this most pleasant harvest festival reveals.

While Thanksgiving, an annual event under the auspices of the state, is a legacy from the early New England colonists, it nevertheless was first proclaimed as a national day for giving thanks by the first President, George Washington, who was requested to do so by joint resolution of congress in 1789, writes Clifford Ernest in the Chicago Daily News.

At intervals from then on to the present it has been observed nationally by proclamation of the President. The longest interval during which no proclamation was issued and the day was only observed by some and that sectionally, was about 50 years ago.

This hiatus in official national gratitude occurred between the presidencies of James Madison and Abraham Lincoln.

During this lapse the southern states objected to its observance by presidential proclamation on the ground that it was a relic of Puritan bigotry.

During this long period of supremacy of the South and West in national affairs the festival was confined chiefly to the northeastern states.

Thursday has been most generally selected as the day of the week for observing the holiday. However, Wednesday has been occasionally used. Although November has been preferred as the month for expressing publicly the national gratitude, February, April, May, August and December have been designated at times.

Wednesdays and Thursdays were selected by the Puritans of New England for their festive occasions in connection with giving thanks for abundant harvests because they desired to have them as far as possible from the Christian Sabbath, which they observed with strict simplicity.

The turkey typifies Thanksgiving and because Governor Bradford of Plymouth sent out four hunters to procure a supply of game for the feast after the first harvest in the fall of 1621. Conspicuous among the game birds and animals lagged by the hunters were numerous wild turkeys, which were common in the woods of Massachusetts. From this circumstance arose the popular association of these handsome and tasty birds with Thanksgiving.

In time the day was observed in Connecticut; later the Dutch of New Netherland proclaimed a public day for giving thanks. During the Revolutionary war congress recommended days for Thanksgiving, Thursday, November 26, 1789, was proclaimed by President George Washington the first national Thanksgiving day after the settling up of the republic.

After President Adams' proclamation for the observance of April 25, 1790, another one wasn't issued for 13 years, when President Madison revived the day and designated a Thursday in August, 1812, as the day for Thanksgiving. Two other such days were appointed and then the lapse until President Lincoln set aside Thursday, August 6, 1863, as a day of Thanksgiving, and then later in the same year designated the "last Thursday of November next" for the same purpose.

President Lincoln's proclamation was as follows:

The year that is drawing toward its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and fruitful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added, which are of an extraordinary nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soothe the heart, which is habitually insensible to the ever-mighty providence of almighty God.

In the midst of a civil war of unequalled magnitude and severity, which has sometimes seemed to foreign armies to invite and provoke their aggressions, peace has been preserved with all nations, order has been maintained, the laws have been respected and obeyed, and harmony has prevailed everywhere, except in the theater of military conflict, while that theater has been greatly contracted by the advancing armies and navies of the Union.

Needful diversions of wealth and of strength from the fields of peaceful industry to the national defense have not increased the plow, the shuttle, or the ship; the war has enlarged the borders of our settlements, and the waters, as well of iron and coal as of the precious metals, have yielded even more abundantly than heretofore. Population has steadily increased, notwithstanding the waste that has been made in the camp, the siege, and the battlefield, and the country, rejoicing in the consciousness of unimpaired strength and vigor, is permitted to expect continuance of years with large increase of freedom.

No human counsel hath devised, nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the most high God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy.

It has seemed to me both proper and fitting that we should, as a nation, gratefully acknowledge as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people, I do, therefore, invite my fellow-citizens in every part of the United States, and also those who are at sea and those who arejourning in foreign lands, to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwells in the heavens. And I recommend to them that, while offering up the aspirations fully due to him for abundant deliverance and blessing for singular deliverances and blessings, they do also, with humble gratitude for our national preservation, and disinterested concern for our common good, remember the millions of our fellow-countrymen, who are now suffering in the midst of the civil war, and who are in need of our sympathy and aid.

Interposition of the almighty hand to heal the wounds of the nation, and to restore it, as soon as may be, consistent with the tilting purposes, to the full enjoyment of peace, harmony, tranquillity and union.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 3rd day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Independence of the United States the sixty-eighth.

MILLBURN

The twelve members of Hickory unit of Home Bureau attending the all-day meeting held at the home of Mrs. W. M. Bonner last Thursday, received two very interesting lessons from Miss Florence Kimmelshue, county home adviser. In the morning she gave a demonstration "Christmas Cookies," making pinwheel cookies, and using a cookie press and various cutters in making attractive shapes from the Silts and Scotch short bread recipes. Several sheets of recipes were given each one present in addition to these demonstrations. Following the pot-luck dinner Miss Kimmelshue gave a history of new fall textiles and showed samples of woolens, acetates, synthetics, alks, cellophane, metallic velvet, corduroy and costume velvets, which she had collected from stores in Chicago, Waukegan and Texas. Mrs. Ralph McGuire and Mrs. Lloyd Atwell were guests at the meeting.

Roasting the Thanksgiving Turkey

FIRST, select a plump, well-fattened turkey. Either a young or an old turkey can be made excellent eating, but you must know which you have, for it makes a difference in the way you cook it. Allow from one-half to three-quarters of a pound in the weight of the turkey for each person to be served—remembering that in the larger kind you will get more meat in that proportion to bone. With a 15-pound turkey, for instance, you can get 20 very generous servings.

The dealer will usually draw the turkey for you, but certain things have to be looked out for at home. Cut off the oil sac, take out the windpipe and lungs, pull out any pin feathers and singe off hairs. Do this quickly so as not to darken or scorch the skin. Wipe the body cavity with a soft cloth wrung out of cold water. Scrub the outside with a wet cloth and soda or corn meal. Rinse off quickly and wipe the bird dry inside and outside. Never let a turkey or any other poultry soak in water. You lose flavor and food value.

Rub the inside with salt before putting in the stuffing. Slip a crusty end slice of a loaf of bread into the opening near the tail to hold in the stuffing, tuck the legs under the band of skin left for that purpose, and saw up the salt with soft white twine. After stuffing and trussing the turkey, rub the outside all over with butter, salt and pepper and pat on flour. Lay a piece of turkey fat over the breast. Place on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not put any water into the pan. Water in a roasting pan makes steam, and steam around a roasting turkey or any tender meat draws out the juices.

Have the oven hot (about 450° F.) when you put the turkey in. Brown it lightly for half an hour in this hot oven and after the first 15 minutes turn the bird with the breast down so it will brown all over. Then reduce the oven heat to very moderate (325° F.). To roast the oven down quickly, leave the door open a few minutes. Turn the bird from time to time, basting it with turkey fat and butter.

If the turkey is young, continue the roasting at this moderate temperature with an lid on the pan until the bird is done. Baste with pan drippings about every half hour. In turning, be careful not to break the skin. A young 10-12 pound turkey will need about three hours to the oven.

For a turkey a year or more old, after browning in the hot oven, put the cover on the roaster, and continue the cooking in the moderate oven. (about 325° F.). You will probably need to allow 4½ hours for a 15-pound bird a year or more old.

To test the "doneness" run a steel skewer or a cooking fork into the thigh next to the breast. If the juice does not show a red tinge, the turkey is done. Make gravy with the giblets and drippings.

The bureau of home economics, United States Department of Agriculture, which gives the foregoing suggestions, also supplies this recipe for a savory stuffing, and one for giblet gravy. For stuffing:

3 quarts dry bread crumbs
1 cup fat, butter
1 small onion, chopped
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 pint chopped celery
2 tsp. salt
1 to 2 tsp. savory seasoning
Pepper to taste

In the melted fat cook the onion, parsley and celery for a few minutes. Add the bread crumbs and seasonings and stir all together until the mixture is thoroughly heated. Pile the hot stuffing lightly into the turkey, but do not pack.

Giblet gravy: Simmer the giblets (liver, gizzard and heart) and the neck in one quart of water for about an hour. Drain the giblets and chop them up, saving the broth. If there is too much fat on the drippings in the roaster, skim off some of the excess fat and leave about one-half cup. Into these pan drippings stir six level tablespoons

HOLIDAY DINNER OF MODERATE PRICE

Stuffed Roast Duck
Caramelized Apples
Mashed Potatoes
Steamed Fresh Peas and Carrots
Hot Rolls
Steamed Plum Pudding with Hard Sauce
Coffee

Prepare plum pudding in mold and steam for 3 hours before dinner is to be served. Hard sauce made and stored in refrigerator. Rolls baked ahead of duck and apples.

Stuff duck and prepare for roasting, put in open pan.

Peel and slice 6 apples into greased baking dish; add 1 cup brown sugar and 1/3 cup butter melted. Cover baking dish.

Put duck and apples into cold oven, set temperature control for 375 degrees. Turn on heat and cook 30 minutes per pound.

Steam potatoes in a saucepan on top of stove. Steam carrots and peas together (carrots sliced with two cold water measures). Cook about 30 minutes.

Make gravy while coffee is cooking.

Swiss Steak for a Family of Six

1½ pounds round or flank steak
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup fat
3 cups cold water
1 small bay leaf (broken)
¼ teaspoon salt
1 onion (sliced)

Cut meat in suitable size pieces for serving. Combine ¼ cup of the flour with salt and pound into steak. Heat fat in frying pan over high heat or surface unit of electric range. Add meat and sear until well browned on both sides. Then remove from pan. Add cold water and stir until mixture boils. Return meat to frying pan and add bay leaf, salt and onion. Cover and simmer low heat for 1 hour, or until meat is tender.

Fruit Pudding

½ cup currants
¼ cup citron
½ cup raisins
2½ cups flour
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
¾ cup suet (chopped)
1 cup milk
¾ cup molasses

Wash and dry the currants. Cut citron very fine. Stone and cut raisins. Mix together and sift all dry ingredients. Cut in suet. Add the fruit. Mix the milk and molasses. Add this to the dry mixture and beat thoroughly. Put in greased pudding cans and cover. Steam for 3 hours.

"A Broiler Special"

Pork Chops with Sweet Potatoes
Pork chops
Sweet potatoes
Salt
Butter
Peanuts (finely chopped) or Peanut brittle (ground)
Steam sweet potatoes. Mash and season with salt and butter. Spread on well potted broiler pan of electric range. Cover with finely chopped peanuts or ground peanut brittle. Put broiler rack in place and place pork chops on broiler rack.

Turn over switch to Broil. Set temperature control beyond Very Hot. When the unit is a glowing cherry red, place the broiler pan and rack under the broiling unit of the automatic electric range. Leave oven door slightly ajar and broil 30 minutes.

Carrot Drop Cookies

1 cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 egg (beaten)
1 cup cooked carrots (mashed)
1 cup pastry flour
2 cups baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon lemon extract
Cream shortening, add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add beaten egg and carrots. Mix and sift together all dry ingredients, and add. Add lemon extract. Drop by spoonfuls on greased cookie sheet 3 inches apart. Bake approximately 15 to 18 minutes, or until lightly browned in hot oven. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Cranberry Sauce

4 cups cranberries
2 cups sugar
2 cups water
¼ teaspoon salt
Wash cranberries and drain. Put sugar and water in saucepan. Place over hot stove and bring to a boil. Then reduce heat and cook slowly ten minutes. Add cranberries and salt, cover and simmer gently until berries are clear and transparent, but not broken (about 10 to 15 minutes).

of flour. Then gradually add the cool broth from the giblets and enough more cold water to make a thin smooth gravy. Cook for 5 minutes, add the chopped giblets and season to taste with salt and pepper.

Dye Restores Faded Garments

Many faded but slightly worn and therefore still serviceable garments can be restored simply by dyeing them a fresh new color. Any of the good commercial dyes will produce the desired results if directions are followed carefully. And the persons dyeing with prepared dyes does not have to be an expert to do a good job. Of course there is a little work to it. The old garment cannot be dropped into the dye pot and forgotten for an hour or so. To get the fabric into condition for dyeing the garment must first be ripped apart, turned inside out and washed thoroughly. All stains must be removed because dye will not cover stains. Sometimes faded streaks can be removed or evened up by boiling the material for about 10 minutes in a solution of soap flakes and water. And remember, if the garment is wool or silk it should be washed in warm water and a neutral soap—not hot or boiling water. It is also a good idea to dye a sample of the material first in a small amount of the dye solution to be used in order to insure getting the color desired.

Dressing for That Bird

If a fowl of some kind is to grace the Thanksgiving table perhaps you might like the favorite dressing recipe of Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint. Cut up enough stale bread to stuff the bird and season lightly with pepper and salt. Grind or crush two stalks of tender celery and a good sized onion. Add these and also one cup butter, one cup boiling water and a half-pint well-drained oysters. Some like sage added to this while others do not. Mix the well before stuffing.

Pumpkin Pie Variation

At this season of the year pumpkin pie is a favorite dessert. Here is a variation of ordinary cream pumpkin pie. In such a pie fewer eggs are needed and the pumpkin is used for thickening. Pare and cook the pumpkin slowly until tender and as dry as possible when it is rubbed through a sieve. For two pies use two cups stove pumpkin, two well-beaten eggs, two cups milk, two cup cream, three-fourth cup sugar and a pinch cinnamon, ginger or nutmeg as desired for seasoning. Mix thoroughly, place in pie crusts and bake.

Beauty Aids on Kitchen Shelf

Those women who have limited resources need not deny themselves helpful beauty preparations. Many simple beauty treatments and remedies are found right in the kitchen cupboard or pantry. Fresh lemon juice is a big aid in keeping attractive. The juice of just half a lemon in equal parts of cold water makes a bleach that will lighten the skin on the face, neck and hands. There are egg masks, oatmeal and egg masks, corn meal to thoroughly cleanse the hands, olive oil for scalp massage just before the shampoo, lemon rinses for the hair, etc.

Helpful Hints

If your pumpkin pies do not turn out a rich golden brown perhaps it is because you forgot to add a teaspoon of black molasses to the filling.

Mold will not form on bread kept in bread boxes if the boxes are aired frequently.

Wooden spoons are best for stirring cooking foods.

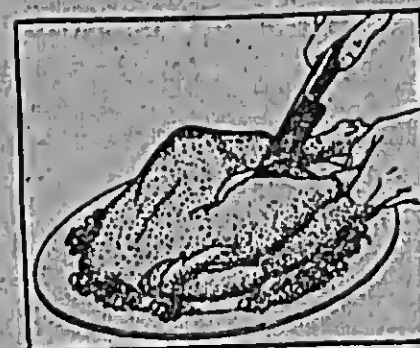

Tea and coffee stains can be removed by pouring hot water through the fabric.

A teaspoon of salt to each pint of water is the proper amount to use when boiling vegetables.

How To Carve Your Thanksgiving Turkey

Even more important than the carving of the Thanksgiving turkey is the method of cooking, says Chef Ernest Amiel of the Palmer House, Chicago. He recommends the electric range as the medium for securing the "brown and tender" ideal sought in roasting the chief actor in the Thanksgiving feast, for the moist atmosphere of the electric oven keeps the turkey from "drying out." Carving, he says, is easy, if these simple rules are followed:

1. Place turkey on back with legs pointing toward the carver. With carving knife cut through skin between leg and body, close to body. With knife, pull back leg and thigh and disjoint from body.

2. Push wing down and hold firmly with fork. Make a deep cut diagonally into breast just above wing. Such a cut simplifies the effective slicing of meat from the breast.

3. Carve breast in thin crosswise slices and place on platter. The deep diagonal cut enables you to end each slice neatly and assures attractive looking slices of breast meat.

4. Hold wing with fork and disjoint with carving knife. Then carve balance of white meat from breast. For a small family, carve but one side of the turkey, so that the remainder may be left for second serving.

Thanksgiving

ENTER into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: and be thankful unto Him and bless His name. For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endureth to all generations.

Psalm 100, 4-5

Lace Worn by Men

In the Seventeenth century lace became highly popular among gentlemen, particularly those in royal and aristocratic circles. The peak of this fashion, writes Louise Baker, Washington, D. C., in Collier's Weekly, was probably reached by King Charles I of England (1600-1649) who has even his night clothes trimmed with 1,500 feet of fancy lace ruffles.

Use for Lead and Zinc

The greatest part of the world's lead and zinc is used for protecting metal surfaces, both as paint pigments such as white lead, and in the case of zinc, in galvanizing. The use of paints containing metallic aluminum is common. Such paints have the added advantages of having considerable heat insulating power.

Cow Consumes Much Feed

The average cow, says an English university expert, ticks away 120 pounds of grass a day, which, if of first-class quality, corresponds to eight chickens, 50 pounds of cabbage, and 40 pounds of potatoes. He further says that the cattle of Britain alone eat six hundred million dollars' worth of grass every year.—Washington Post.

Strassburg Pie

Strassburg pie is another name for pate de foie gras. It is a delicately seasoned potted meat, made of the abnormally large and fat livers of artificially fattened geese or duck. Strassburg and Toulouse are the chief cities of manufacture of the product.

An Old Belief

Carry a nose-chestnut in your pocket and you will not be troubled by rheumatism.

"TILL BROWN AND TENDER"

More homes than ever before will enjoy a new flavor in Thanksgiving turkey due to the large number of electric ranges sold this year. Food authorities say that the roasting of turkey in the moist controlled heat of an electric oven preserves the flavor and moisture of the meat. The modern electric oven is draftless and this is said to be the reason why the "till brown and tender" rule, which for years has been the watchword in cooking the Thanksgiving turkey, is more successfully achieved with electric cookery than with any other method. No special roasting pan is needed. Just place the turkey on the shallow broiler pan furnished with the miracle broiler of the electric range, and it will come forth from the oven done to a turn and perfectly browned. In electric cookery the temperature for roasting turkey is quite low—from 275° to 300°. From 25 to 30 minutes per pound should be allowed for roasting.

Source of Blue Ivory

Blue Ivory comes from the tusks of extinct mammoths found imbedded in the frozen soil of northern Siberia. The blue color is due to the metallic salts which have penetrated them in the course of centuries.

Climate of Aleutian Islands
Normal temperatures of the Aleutian Islands from December to March are near the freezing point, and do not vary by more than two degrees. Months of July and August have means from 64 to 61 degrees, and the temperature seldom rises to 70 degrees.
